Research and evaluation services

We provide high-quality, independent research and evaluation in all areas of education and training. Every project that we undertake is managed by experienced staffs, who are leading experts in their fields. Our extensive research experience enables us to select from a wide range of research techniques and methodologies, including online surveys and evaluations.

Marketing and dissemination services

Research results are only meaningful if they are shared. Therefore we pay particular attention to sharing findings through various routes in order to promote better understanding and good practice. The Sampling Research offers a range of publishing and marketing services aimed at assisting clients to meet their dissemination objectives.
